

TOP FIVE REASONS TO BUY A COMPOSITE TUB.

It's time to buy a new tub. You want something stylish – that's a given. Comfort is a top concern, not to mention maintenance issues. It's a big decision, and not one to be made lightly. These days, more and more people are deciding in favor of composite tubs. Here are a few of the top reasons why.

1. Strength and durability.

Victoria + Albert tubs are crafted from a composite material rich in finely ground volcanic limestone known as ENLISHCAST®. This incredibly strong material is naturally harder than acrylic and carries an amazing 25-year warranty. And because each tub is created from a single solid piece, they do not creak or flex.

2. Good looks.

Composite tubs offer the best of all worlds. They capture the essence of vintage design but add modern comforts, like roomy interiors and eco-friendly options. Freestanding models replace the boxy shape of old-fashioned surrounds and offer greater space planning flexibility. Victoria + Albert tubs have a natural white surface that is hand-finished to a glossy shine. With a wide range of designs that run the gamut from traditional to contemporary, it's easy to find a tub that suits your own personal style.

3. Warm and cozy.

Composite tubs have high insulation properties that retain heat and offer a warmed surface for resting one's backside during long soaks.

4. No hassles.

Composite tubs are made from easy-to-clean solid surfaces. There are no crevices where mold and bacteria can hide, and any interior scratches can be simply polished away.

5. Custom options.

Choose the style of faucet you want – freestanding, wall-mounted or traditional – and drill the holes as needed. You can also personalize the exterior of your Victoria + Albert tub with faux finishes or custom paint jobs.
